CHARLOTTE

MONDAY, MAY 19, 1862.

The News received by Telegraph.

(If any) since our first edition was put to press, will be found on the first page.

A Lecture.

We have been requested to state that the Rev. Dr. HUNTER will deliver a Lecture this Evening, at Treloar Hall, for the benefit of the soldiers in the Hospitals. After the Lecture a collection will be taken up. Doors open at 8 o'clock.

A Concert.

The Ladies propose giving a second concert for the benefit of the soldiers on Tuesday evening, May 20th, in Treloar Hall.

Our New Volume.

We commence this morning the issue of the Seventh Volume of "THE DAILY BULLETIN," and embrace the opportunity of renewing our thanks to the public for the liberal patronage they have conferred.

Our circulation is increasing rapidly and but for the want of proper help we would make contemplated improvements altogether acceptable to our patrons.

We take occasion to remind our friends that our terms are cash in advance, and as a large number date with the commencement of a new volume, we will be pleased to hear from them within ten days, if they desire that the paper be left at their residence as heretofore.

Humiliation.

Friday last, as ordered by the President, was religiously observed in Charlotte—"Mourning" at the Charlotte Hotel and of the Mansion House closed their cooking Stoves, and their borders all looked as though they were ready to pay if they had not done so,—for something to eat.

The Killed and Wounded.

The following is a list of the killed, wounded and missing in the Randallesburg Rifles, Co. B, 13th Regiment N. C. Volunteers, in the battle of Williamsburg, May 5th, 1862:

KILLED.

Joseph Thompson, 1st Lieutenant.—Privates, R. G. C. Baker, James F. Knox, E. L. Prather, R. Lee Swann and James F. Wilson.

WOUNDED.

Capt. A. A. Erwin, right arm broken. Lieut. S. W. Alexander, slightly in the left hip.

Corporal W. A. Freeman, severely in both shoulders.

Private Jesse A. Boyd, slightly in the hand and side.

C. W. Brown, slightly in the breast.

Henry Cathey, slightly in the hip.

Jas. M. Erwin, left thumb shot off.

F. A. Hawkins, in the arm and side.

John B. Kerr, in the arm and leg.

Isaac H. McGinn, in the foot.

Wm. J. Taylor, severely in the hip and shoulder.

H. F. Wolf, severely in the hip.

Joe M. Knox, known to be wounded and supposed to be killed.

C. W. Boyd and James R. Wiggins, missing and supposed to be killed.

Frederick Wolf and H. McGinn, were left in Williamsburg, and the doubtless are prisoners.

Col. Morgan, with the army, in which 110 of our soldiers were killed, and 25 taken prisoners, with the loss of one man on our side.

The gallant partisan leader, leaving 100 of his men at Raleigh, proceeded northward with the remainder of his force, comprising many of the best soldiers of the State. Unfortunately, however, some prisoners were taken at Raleigh, and the army was obliged to retreat.

At Raleigh, the army was surprised and surrounded on three sides, in the public square, by three regiments of Lincoln troops—one of cavalry and two of infantry. Morgan immediately ordered 2000 of his men to retreat, and the remainder of the army followed.

The retreat was made in the most orderly manner, and the army was not pursued.

The army was then ordered to march northward, and the remainder of the army followed.

leaving him and his men at liberty to be a terror to the invaders, and to execute the great purpose of the enterprise. We have been informed as to that purpose, but do not know it better to withhold it. He has four thousand picked men in Tennessee ready to join him, so that in due time, the public will hear startling news from him—news worthy his genius and prowess, and which will be a crusher to our insolent foe.

An Important Document.

From the Jackson Mississippiian.] HEADQUARTERS LIGHT ARTILLERY REG'T Camp of Instruction, near Jackson, May 2, 1862.

Editor Mississippiian:—Enclosed I send you a communication which I received last night from New Orleans, by a special messenger. It is a document that should command the attention of every cotton planter and true patriot in the South. It is the deliberate expression of probably the largest, wealthiest and most influential class of the citizens of New Orleans. The advice they give necessarily involves themselves, but with a devotion that rivals that of the patriots of the revolution, they prefer being beggars rather than slaves.

No truer sentiment was ever uttered than that "if commerce is once revived by our enemies we are enslaved forever." Let the blazing fires of thousands of plantations admonish the Yankees and the world, that commerce is dead, until our liberties are established and our beloved Confederacy has taken her stand among the nations of the earth.

For reasons that will be manifested to all, there are no signatures to the enclosed document. Those who prepared it are among the truest sons of the South, and they desire that it should be published in every paper in the Confederacy. Funds are provided for to pay for it, if required, as an advertisement. I mention this fact merely to show the zeal and devotion of the patriots who prepared the document, for I feel sure that every paper in the South will gladly lend their aid to give circulation to this stirring appeal from our brethren who are now under the heel of the despot.

Respectfully yours, Wm. T. Withers.

TO COTTON PLANTERS.

New Orleans, 11th May 1862. Not degraded or enslaved, but yielding to armed ships with guns leveled at the homes of our defenceless wives and children—the escutcheon of Louisiana is not unstained, and her flag has been desecrated, but by her enemies. None could be found among us so vile, so low or degraded as to lower her national ensign. We have yielded but to brute force but for the moment.

It becomes now the duty of all planters to display more than ever their patriotism and devotion upon the battle field. Now let us fight our enemies as well by burning and destroying every bale of cotton until peace is declared and our nationality is restored. Let their conquest be a barren one.

The merchant fleets of Europe and of America will soon be bringing their riches to us to trade with, and a splendid exchange of cotton for commodities will be opened. See our country flourish and prosper.

seems to us however, that a small force might prevent this, and so harass the scattered detachments of the enemy as to finally drive him back. Should it not be done?—Monthly Appeal, 11th.

We regret to learn through the Lynchburg Virginian, that Col. Henry A. Dowd, of the 10th N. C. Regiment, and successor of the late Col. McKimney, was killed in the fight at Williamsburg. We hope it is incorrect. We have heard nothing of it in this quarter. Col. Dowd is a native of Wake county.—Raleigh Standard.

GUERRILLAS AT WORK.—Our guerrilla bands in North-western Virginia have been doing good work. They made, a few days since, a descent on Summersville, the county seat of Nicholas county, drove out the Yankees, taking a number of prisoners and capturing their baggage and stores.

They then surrounded the town of Suttonville, the county seat of Braxton Co. The Yankees sent out a flag of truce and surrendered unconditionally. The guerrillas took 142 prisoners and all their stores and baggage.

Our men then followed up and took the enemy's stronghold on Cheat Mountain, capturing a number of prisoners, together with all the baggage, and put the remainder of the Federal force to flight. These latter were met by Milroy's Federal army, who, followed by Jackson, were on their way to Cheat Mountain, and reported that locality to be occupied by ten thousand desperadoes.—Milroy thereupon stopped, and was attacked by Gen. Jackson, who captured all his train and artillery and routed his whole force.—Richmond Examiner.

CAPITULATION OF MILROY'S ARMY.—Passengers by the Orange train, last evening, says the Lynchburg Virginian of yesterday, report that Milroy's whole army capitulated to Jackson. They seemed to have entire confidence in the truth of the rumor.

Our forces have been engaged for two or three days in haying back to Staunton the stores captured from Milroy.

[Petersburg Express.]

The Charleston Courier is indebted to a friend for the following letter, containing extracts from the New Orleans papers of the 3d inst.

New Orleans, May 3d, 1862.

Editors Courier:—The Yankee invaders are insulted by our people in every conceivable way; if one of them enters a car or an omnibus, every passenger instantly leaves it. About twenty gentlemen were dining yesterday at a restaurant, when two Federal officers entered and took a seat at a side table; instantly every gentleman left the house. The Yankees then called for something to eat, the proprietor answered them that he would not sell or give them a morsel to save their lives.

Just morning, saw a Yankee Captain stop a negro drayman and try to hire him to haul a load; the drayman replied: "Any such feeling as Union does not exist in this city."

We take the following paragraphs from the Memphis Appeal, of the 17th inst.: From Fort Pillow.—We have nothing to report from Fort Pillow, except that the same place is still in the hands of the Federal forces.
